

Uglier than I

(based on the melody of the song, “Wonderful Tonight”)

by Joyce Yang

It's dark in the lounge bar; I'm wondering with which girl to chat.

I set my toupee right and tap the girl with a showy hat.

She turns and asks me, “Am I your Ms. Right?”

I was shocked, “Oops, your homely look catches my sight.”

We go out the lounge bar and everyone turns to see

This ugly lady whose smile petrifies everybody.

And then she asks me, “Why are they looking at me?”

And I say, “Cuz you look extremely beamy.”

You look ugly because I see

The denture shine through your lips.

And the only thing I can say

Is that you just don't understand how much you scare me.

It's time to break up now and I've seen her crying face,

So I give her my toupee and she returns me her fists.

And then she tells me, as she bursts into tears,

She says, “My darling, you are not better than I.”

“Oh you bald man, you are uglier than I.”
