

No. 6

In the English class last week, I fell asleep because of going to bed late. I had a dream that I became an English teacher. When I was teaching, the students were all sleep. So I was very angry and woke them up. At the same time, I suddenly found my English teacher was in front of my seat and woke me up with anger. My classmates all laugh at me. Finally, I realized that it was just a dream that I became an English teacher.

No. 8

In the English class last week, our English teacher, who has rare hair on his head, was teaching us about the grammar. The teacher was so old and the lesson was so boring that some of the classmates fell asleep. However, I didn't fall asleep. But one classmate, who was sitting next to me, fell asleep. Besides, he even dreamed a dream. What's worse, he should laugh so loudly as to catch all the people's attention. At first, the teacher didn't pay much attention to the student who was sleeping. But when he saw the one next to me, he was irritated. Since he felt furious by the student's deed, he walked towards to the student, and said "Wake up." The student, who was dreaming, was shocked to wake up.

Afterwards, the teacher asked him "What makes you laugh?" The student applied "I dreamed a dream that you got your hair back on your head, but students in class were all falling asleep. Then, you shouted to wake them up!" At the time he said so, I bursted out laught at his embarrassment.

No. 12

In the English class last week, all the students listened to the teacher concentratedly except Tom. At First, Tom just took a nap. However, He fell asleep short after that.

And when he was sleeping, he dreamed. In his dream, the person who stood in front of all the students was not others but himself. Although he tried so hard to teach his students in order to make them understand the English grammar, there were more and more students falling asleep with time flying.

Finally, he stared at the student sleeping in front of him. He felt so angry as if all the efforts he put so as to teach his students were in vain. So he went ahead, and cried out "Wake up!" But at this time, he felt there was some one also crying out "Wake up!" to him. Eventually, he found that he had fell asleep, and the English teacher was gazing at him angrily.

No. 19

In the English class last week, I had full asleep, and I dreamed I became a English teacher in the class, but nobody listening to me, so I'm very angry, then I called them waked up.

No. 22

In the English class last week, I'm early go to sleeping on the disk, I make the dream, the dream is "In the English class last week" and I am a English teacher. When I so hard do my job a lot of students are sleeping and no listen to my English lesson. I'm very angre, pushing the disk and saw "Wake up." but now it's my teacher saw wake up to me, Well, it's too bad in this bay. I hope don't be a English teacher in furture. Becasue to be a teacher is so hard job. Now, the students are very hard to teach.

No. 24

In the English class last week I was sleeping, because I played a computer game at last night. I made a dream in sleeping in the class.

In the dream the techer used a lagre voice to tech us what is the "grammar", but every body want to sleep, so techer saied "Wake up!"

When I was wakened by the real techer, I saw a classmate was larying to me.

"Don't sleep in the class", It is histroy told us.

No. 25

In the English class last week, my teacher was teachd the Lesson 30, "We are the world!". The weather was so wonderful to take a nap.

When I was sleeping, I dreamed a very dreadful thing. I became a teacher in my dream teaching the grammar. But no one were listening in my class. All my students were sleeping. How dreadful the thing is. I was so angry, and said "Wake up!"

"Wake up!", "Wake up!", my teacher said! He was so angry about I sleeping in his class. And he said "If you sleep in my class next time, I will fail your English".

No. 26

In the English class last week, the teacher was teaching us about "We are the world!" I was fall asleep, because I was so tired! And then I began dreaming, I was dreaming about I became a teacher. I tought my students about "grammar", and that year was in 2025. And when I was teaching, my students were all fall asleep. I was very happily to enjoy the class, but how dare they were sleep! So I angrily to asked them woke up, they were threatened. And at the same time, I was woke up, too. It was my teacher woke me up. And I realized that I was dreaming! That was a dream, thank god! When I woke up later, a classmate who seated next to me said that I was keeping said the words "Wake up, you guys!" I was so shame! And later that night, I couldn't help wonder : Will I be a teacher in future 2025? I hope not! I don't like to be a teacher! God bless me, please!

No. 27

In the English class last week, A student take a nap in English class. when his English teacher teaches Lesson 30 “we are the world”. When he sleeping at class. He dream that he is an English teacher 20 years later at school. But his students are sleeping. He is very angry and strike the table saying “

Wake up” When he is dreaming, his English teacher walk in front of his table and say “Wake up”. His classmates are laugh at him. He feels sadness. He know if keep sleep in class He will not become the English teacher.