

Outsider by Chloe Ho

She was a girl that you have ever hurt
She was an underdog who lost her life
Her dream was taken away and shattered
Those criminals
Teasing like they found something odd
But she didn't feel ashamed
This girl carried her pain
Shattered and bashed but she'll come back

And now she is an outsider
She doesn't care what you say
Now she is an outsider
She fights this tough war
She is weaponless but confident
She is an outsider
But this time she thinks she will win

All of her faith, now shining like a star
You should be careful of her, you are gonna lose this time
She's cried, she's cursed
But she got over
She is an outsider
Who can beat you up in a blink

She left her past and worth
She walked away and
Never felt shattered and ashamed

'Cause she is an outsider
She won't feel pity and sad
She is an outsider
She is strong and confident
She has faith in mind, you won't reach it
She is an outsider
For you, she is out of your hand
(Bridge)

She lost part of her she couldn't find
This girl learned from life
All it happened was a beat; she said goodbye
Now She's standing up right there
No more crying, no more weeping
'Cause she's gonna leave you pity in the end

'Cause she is an outsider
She won't feel pity and sad
She is an outsider
She is strong and confident
She has faith in mind, you won't reach it
She is an outsider
She will fight you back

Nooo oooh yeaah yeaah

You will never touch her again
