

Eating Is Not Fine

(Inspired by Langston Hughes' "Life is Fine")

by Cherry 張湘琳

I passed by a food vendor
I smelled out through the air
I tried to ignore but couldn't
So I rushed away in anger

I sneaked back once and shivered
I sneaked back twice and despaired
If that pants hadn't a-been so tensed
I might've entered and relaxed
But I was tensed in those pants!
It was tensed!

I stood on the weight scale
Seventy kilograms even fatter than a whale
I dreamed about being a slender female
And dreamed about a love fairy tale

I stood there and I shivered
I stood there and I despaired
If I hadn't a- been so much weight
I might've left and relaxed

But I was Heavy there! I was heavy!

So since I'm still here fat
I guess I will keep on a diet

I could've diet for those pants
But for annoying fat

Though you may feel me scared
And you may see me despaired
I'll be persevered, pretty figure,
If you gonna see me swear.

Eating is not fine!
Evil as crime!
Eating is not fine!
